

Concentration Camps

After the Nazis came to power in 1933, they began isolating Jews and other non-Aryans in various concentration camps. The camps in which the prisoners were primarily used for labor were called "work camps." Other camps were established for the sole purpose of mass killings. These camps were called "extermination camps" or "death camps."

Map shows locations of major camps